CRIMSON TIDE SWEEPS IN SATURDAY

Corcoran Hall Will No Longer Be Scene of Interfraternity And Student Council Dollar Dances

Football Hop Saturday Evening to Be At National Press Club

WILL BE FIRST OF SERIES
Two Councils Sponsor Joint Schedule—Location of Second Subject to Approval

The National Press Club will be the scene of the first of a series of George Washington University football dances to be sponsored jointly by the Interfraternity Council and Student Council, on the evening following the Alabama-George Washington football game, October 8. The time of the dance will be from 10 until 1 o'clock.

In response to the demand of a large number of University students who have patronized Interfraternity Council football dances in the past, for a higher type of dance which would appeal to a greater majority of students, the combine between the two outstanding organizations of the University has been effected. Believing that both groups could more ably work together for a few outstanding social events of the year that would reflect credit upon the University, rather than numerous small affairs, the two councils have arranged the following special calendar for the football season:

October 8 (following Alabama game), 10 to 1.
October 14 (following Catawba game), 10 to 1.
October 21—10 to 1.
October 28 (following Iowa game), 10 to 1.
November 4 (following N. D. game), 10 to 1.
November 11 (following W. & M. game), 10 to 1.
November 24 (following Oklahoma game), 10 to 1.

Music will be furnished by George Vass and his Commanders' Orchestra. This orchestra has become very popular the past two years, playing on the Wilson Line, at Maryland University dances, and at various fraternity dances at George Washington University.

The committee in charge of the dances is composed of the social committee of the two councils: Wendell H. Bain, social chairman of the Interfraternity Council; Kathleen Watkins, social chairman of the Student Council; Grant Van de Mark and Jerry Free of the Interfraternity Council; and Loren Murray and James Haley of the Student Council.

Marvin Sponsors Freshman Smoker

Opportunity Given Students to Get Acquainted With Each Other

A smoker for all freshmen men will be held in Corcoran hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

The idea of this smoker originated with President Cloyd Heck Marvin, who feels that this will give the freshmen an opportunity to become better acquainted with each other. A committee from the Student Council has been cooperating with the president's office in making arrangements for the affair.

President Marvin will be present and speak to the group. There will also be a boxing exhibition and refreshments will be served.

Bill Stanley, a student in the Law School, will have charge of the boxing; he promises three fast bouts by some of the best amateurs in the District. Stanley is now instructor of boxing at the Y. M. C. A. and was captain of the George Washington boxing team several years ago.

This smoker is strictly for first-year men and all freshmen are requested to wear their freshmen buttons for identification.

Caps for Alabama

A center section of 1,000 seats will be reserved for the Alabama game on Saturday. No one will be admitted without cheering caps. Caps will be on sale at the game.

Notice to Freshmen

A final Medical examination will be held for freshmen who missed the last one, on Monday, October 10, between 10 and 12 in the gymnasium.

Physical aptitude tests for all freshmen will be held in the gymnasium between 10 and 12 on October 6, 7, and 8.

Fagelson, Everett, Herzog Appointed Junior Managers

Heads and Assistants Named for Football, Basketball, and Minor Sports

It has been announced by the Athletic Department that Bernard Fagelson, John Everett, and Robert Herzog have been selected as junior managers of varsity sports. Fagelson has taken up his duties as manager of the football team; Everett starts in this week as manager of basketball, and Herzog as manager of minor sports.

These selections culminated months of work in freshman or sophomore positions. Fagelson was sophomore manager of football, in charge of the freshman team last season.

Everett was one of the sophomore managers of varsity basketball and manager of varsity golf. Herzog was sophomore manager of varsity football and manager of varsity tennis.

The present managerial system is now in its second year. It was drawn up by the committee on athletic managerships, put into effect last fall, and proved very satisfactory.

The idea and purpose of this system is to provide an efficient means of selecting managers based on their ability and experience. It eliminates the possibility of any partisanship or undeserved appointment, thus benefiting the department by providing worthy managers.

March Through Downtown With Colonial Band

Freshmen, Sophomore Classes to Join in Saturday Demonstration

CHEER-LEADERS ON HAND

Alabama Special Train of 12 Cars to Arrive 12:35 p. m. Friday

Permits for a "Stop Alabama" demonstration in the form of a parade through the downtown business section, before the Crimson Tide-Colonial clash Saturday afternoon, were issued last night to the Student Council by the Metropolitan police.

The parade will assemble in the College Yard at 1 p. m. and will proceed along Twentieth street to Pennsylvania avenue, along Pennsylvania avenue to Fifteenth street, south on Fifteenth to Pennsylvania avenue, east on Pennsylvania avenue to Thirtieth street, and north on Thirtieth street to I street, where the parade will disband in time for the game.

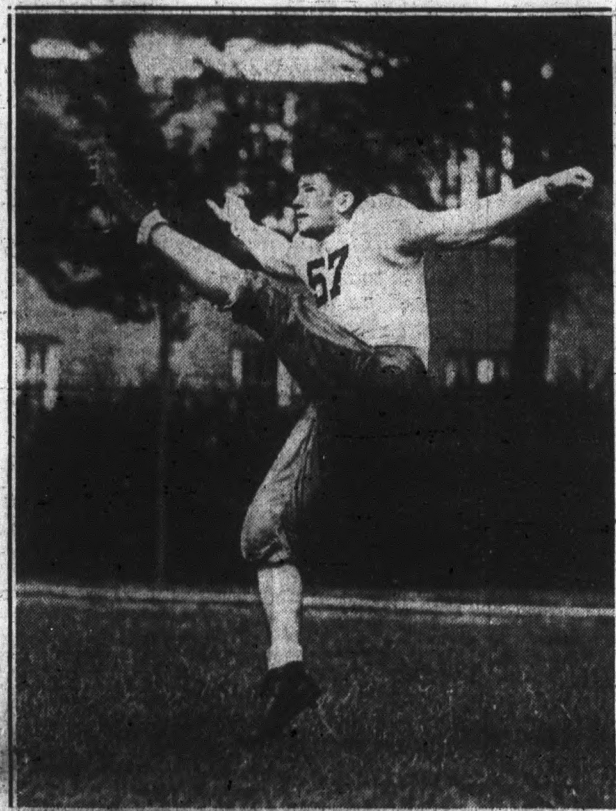

The freshmen class have already made plans to march in a body wearing their new buff and blue caps. The sophomore class is expected to follow their example. Jerry Sickler and his newly-organized cheering group will be on hand to lead the rooting and they will also offer a demonstration of big-time cheer-leader gymnastics.

The Colonial band will lead the parade and George Washington students with cars will be permitted to form in the parade and the Council members in charge will urge the drivers to decorate their cars with banners and buff and blue colors.

The entire procession will be headed by a police escort.

An "Alabama Special" train of 12 cars will arrive at the Union Station at 12:35 Friday, bringing the Alabama Band, and followers of the Crimson Tide and the Student Council will have the Colonial Band and a group of students ready to welcome them.

All-American Ace on View Saturday

Captain Johnny "Hurricane" Cain, a young Southern gentleman whose ability to pass, kick, skirt the ends, and plunge through the tackles, is surpassed by none, will face Colonial stalwarts Saturday afternoon.

Freshman, Sophomores Organize; Elect Officers During Past Week To Hold Sway for School Year

Bourke Floyd Will Guide Sophomore Destinies; Other Posts Filled

Bourke Floyd was elected president of the sophomore class at an enthusiastic assembly Tuesday evening following the frosh organization. The upperclassmen far outdid the new men in numbers and enthusiasm. From the very beginning political line-ups were in evidence.

Bourke Floyd, chairman pro tempore, called the meeting to order, appointed an election committee, and proceeded with the nominations.

John Barbers, with an eloquent speech describing the ability of Bourke Floyd, was the first to take the floor. Floyd's nomination was applauded and followed by Joe Danzansky's motion for unanimous election. The motion was carried and the chair was turned over to the new executive with due parliamentary formality.

The election of the remaining officials was carried with motions, speeches, and applause. The first vice presidential nominee was Pug Hay, named by Bob McMillan. Alice Buell put Betty Shipp's name on the board. Hay was elected with the help of a very sizeable Delta Tau Delta aggregation.

Nominations for secretary being in order, Bill Claudy submitted the name of Edith Mish. Unanimously was moved and carried. Amanda Chittum and Catherine Kilgore were nominated by Betty McGowan and John Barbers, respectively, to fill the treasurer's post. Chittum carried the position with a fair majority. The office of sergeant-at-arms was filled by Bill Franklin, after a struggle with Bill Claudy and Tom Dykes.

Alpha Lambda Delta Will Bid Charlotte Dubin October 19

Charlotte Dubin will be "tapped" for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman women's honor fraternity, at the freshman assembly, Wednesday, October 19, at 12 noon. This honor is awarded her for the attainment of the required grade of B plus for her entire freshman year.

Initiation will be held at the Kennedy-Warren in about three weeks, and will be followed by a joint banquet with Phi Eta Sigma.

Karl Dieffenbach Will Preside Over Yearling Class in New Organization

Karl Dieffenbach is president of the class of 1936. Under the temporary chairmanship of Jack Jones, the frosh carried out their organization last September 27, supervised by the Vigilance Committee.

A freshman election committee was appointed by Jones to assist in the election of the class president. Nominations were held in order and the following candidates were named: Karl Dieffenbach, Stanley Mattern, and Marjorie Nelson. The election committee proceeded with the vote and announced the election of Dieffenbach. A committee of three escorted the new president to the chair amid uproarious cheers.

Other officers will be elected on Wednesday, October 5, by popular ballot. Ballot boxes will be placed at convenient places on the campus for this purpose. Candidates for the offices of vice president, secretary, and treasurer, properly endorsed by twenty-five members of the class submitted to Ted Rhinehart on October 1, were Jack

Conferring of Honorary Degree on Orchestra Head to Be Part of Commemoration of Haydn Bicentennial—Entire Program Will Be Devoted to Music

George Washington University students who are to be graduated at the Fall Convocation on October 13, will receive their degrees at one of the most interesting and unusual academic assemblies ever held in this country.

The Convocation has been designated as the University's official observance of the Haydn bicentennial, marking the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Austrian composer who was the first great modern in the history of music.

Southerners Hailed as Great Team, but Pixelemen Have Fair Chance for Victory

Swinging northward from Tuscaloosa this week, the Crimson Tide of Alabama will roll into Washington to meet The George Washington University Colonials at Griffith Stadium, Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Most famous of all the South's gridiron representatives, the Tide comes with a reputation that reaches from coast to coast by virtue of its many successes in the Rose Bowl championships.

This is the game which all Washington has been awaiting since last fall when Colonial authorities proudly announced that Alabama was to be their guest on this date. It will decide, as Coach Pixlee so aptly put it, "whether we have a real football team, or just an also ran."

Leading the surge of the Crimson will be Captain John "Hurricane" Cain, fullback, prominently mentioned last year for All-American. The eyes of every G. W. man will be riveted on this human dynamo who lived up to his reputation last week, literally running wild as he and his mates trounced Mississippi State, 53-0.

In every department of the game he is superb. Kicking, passing, plunging, blocking, and open field running find

Athletic Department To Print Programs

Football Announcements to Be Most Elaborate in History

The football programs for this year which are being put out under the auspices of the Athletic Department, will be the most elaborate in the history of the University and will be among the best in the country.

In addition to information and pictures about the teams and schools participating in the games and other information of general interest to football fans, this year's programs will carry a complete history of Colonial football and basketball.

The first edition of the book will appear for the Alabama game on Saturday and the editions will be put out in connection with the games with Iowa, North Dakota State, William and Mary, and Oklahoma.

The price will be 25 cents.

DANIEL BEATTIE

"Oh, Say, Can't You See?" Is Chosen For the 1932 Troubadour Production; Daniel Beattie Is Author of the Book

Denis Connell Selects Libretto for This Year's Show With Approval of Troubadour Board of Directors—Production Will Begin Immediately

"Oh, Say, Can't You See," written by Daniel Beattie, has been chosen as the 1932 Troubadour production.

The play was among those submitted by the book committee to Denis E. Connell for final decision. He selected this libretto as the one to be produced as this year's show. In the written report submitted to the board of directors, Mr. Connell commends the script highly, saying that of the books submitted to him, "Oh, Say, Can't You See," was the most logical one to choose, adding that "this play is entirely different from any other show done by the Troubadours." Mr. Connell has coached the Troubadour productions for the past seven years and is very prominent in local dramatic circles.

Immediately following the receipt of Mr. Connell's report, the board of directors of Troubadours voted to accept his recommendation. Production will be started immediately. Dates of tryouts will be announced in next week's Hatchet.

The plot of "Oh, Say, Can't You See" revolves about a harassed show girl's efforts to put on a bold front before her visiting home town folks. How she does it, and how a wealthy young society man, alias a chauffeur, and an entire stage troupe, enter into the deception, provide one hilarious situation after another.

Keep the Field Clear During the Halves

Just by way of constructive criticism we offer the following comments as a result of observations at the George Washington-Westminster game at Griffith Stadium Friday night. We can conceive of no legitimate reason for permitting an unruly mob of spectators to clutter up the field between halves when the band is on parade. Why a prancing drum major and his Buff and Blue musicians should be compelled to literally pick their way through a throng of discourteous loiterers on the field is beyond us.

We believe that every possible move should be taken to provide adequate policing facilities at the stadium and thus avoid the necessity of a repetition of this rather sad spectacle. Not only does the iniquitous practice interfere with and detract from the effectiveness of the University Band's demonstration, but it is absolutely uncalled for, and can and should be prevented. We urge that every precaution be taken to give the band the courtesy of a clear field for parade purposes between halves in the Alabama game Saturday.

Let Us Have Some Organized Cheering

And then there is this matter of cheering. It seems that at the beginning of every athletic season at practically every university in the country, the identical problem is presented—that of organized cheering. George Washington is fortunate in having a staff of capable and hard working cheer-leaders. But try as they might an organized response is lacking. Real honest-to-goodness organized cheering by a student body is an art. It means that everyone must be familiar with the wording of the yells, it means that every student must be paying particular attention to the cheer leader so as to know which cheer is about to be given and the manner in which it is to be given, and finally every last member of the student body must cheer as an organized unit. Those "rugged individualists" who insist upon spoiling a good cheer by prolonging a phrase are no asset to any cheering section. Some universities have organized cheering units which practice and have a reserved seat section at all games. These units also do effective work spelling out letters with colored cards. But there is no reason in the world why every last George Washingtonian should not impose upon himself the obligation of being responsible for real effective cheering. Let's place this resolution in effect at the Alabama game.

Again We Urge—Sign Your Letters

It is the policy of The Hatchet to print all letters to the Editor which are signed by bona fide students of the University. In fact, we encourage such correspondence for we believe that it is entirely possible to uncover much in the way of constructive criticism in this manner. Our insistence upon signatures to these letters is to prevent misuse of this privilege by unscrupulous individuals whose only purpose is one of rationalizing their prejudices against the rules of the University.

In this issue we print a letter signed by "An Interested Graduate." We print this letter because we believe the idea back of it is a good one, and because the graduate student may not be acquainted with our rules. However, we must emphasize that this action does not establish a precedent. Let us repeat, we are glad to hear from you, but sign your letters.

We Lament the Passing Of the Corcoran Dances.

It is not without a twinge of regret that we read the news which announces the end of the reign of the dollar dances in Corcoran Hall 10.

Particularly to the older students of the University these affairs had a marked significance. They have been the social stamping ground of the University, the place to stalk the unwary freshman at rushing season, the scene of celebration of football triumphs, and the starting point of many a campus romance.

We say goodbye but its memories will be with us always.

NORTHWESTERN FRESHMAN PUZZLED BUT PATIENT

The Powers That Be,
The Daily Northwestern:

I have been asked to express my attitude toward Northwestern University. I am not sure that a freshman is entitled to have an attitude toward the University but I will be glad to describe my feelings.

Did you ever see one of these cigarette manufacturing machines that turns out many thousands of cigarettes an hour? Attendants pour cigarette tobacco into one hopper and the finished cigarette comes out of the other end. I feel like the tobacco that has been poured into the first hopper. The machine is too big for me. Only dimly do I comprehend its workings; I await results. I am not sure that I am going wholly to enjoy the process but I hope that the machine will make "a first class cigarette" out of me.

Sincerely yours,

—The Daily Northwestern.

CHIPS

"Congratulations, I am glad to see it." How many times have you heard this tripe, since the Greek male snatching contest came to a climax Sunday? Marjorie (Ma Ferguson) Nelson, freshman political genius, rates her first fraternity dance. The thrill that comes once, etc, eh!

It's been suggested they call the footballers' mascot Heinz-57 varieties of dog. Wanted—One stocking winder for freshmen women art students who wish to attract the eye of the editor. The freshmen class organization can be aptly called organized class, but they do have a lot of fun. Betty Coon, A. D. P.'s perpetual pledge, ended her marathon last Saturday in initiation, tired but victorious. "Never have I worked so hard for a C in Rhetoric," said Betty. One reporter writes, "Mr. and Mrs. Rambo, the latter who is an S. A. E." This depression is sure causing some desperate moves. The Pi Phi's celebrated a blessed event in their rooms last week! The house cat had kittens in the cupboard. Ha! fooled you that time. Farrington and Lydia to wed. Max must miss that scrimmage in his rest hours. Rollo extends his welcome to his (alleged) pal, Betty Noname, whose return to The Hatchet office in nocturnal hours is hailed in ecstasy.

A resume of this "clip the coupon" invitation service which the sororities sport for their annual go-around leads me to state that it seems to be collective and not individual poor taste. And now, Betty, please get Rollo's right name for your next "billet doux," for he does have one, and include your cartoon. Even a columnist has a pal.

Our Prexy shifted his smoker speeches from fish stories to snake dancers, but he is still featuring himself in that popular Gee-string. The Troubadours are preparing their annual ham and beef review called "Oh, Say Can You See." How could anyone miss seeing "that" chorus? On perusing sorority song books imagine our surprise at finding a drinking song among the demure Pi Phi collection—to be sung after a steaming bumper of lemonade, we hope. 'Tis said that the much talked about A. D. Pi transfer from Louisiana smokes a pipe. Boys, cast a wary eye when you pull out your Brown's Mule among these co-eds hereafter. Along the line of progressive ideas, why can't they clear the football field of its hooligans at the half so that the band can strut its stuff with greater freedom at the halves. The Sigs and the Delts reached the utopia of interfraternity friendship when they swapped a Hatchet editor for two letter men to make scenery at their rush functions. When next you need a date look over the new blonde and brunette the registrar's office has acquired. I suppose the Delts will be proposing football now as an interfraternity sport. One freshman coed avers that Pug Hay is sure a fine K-A. Maybe it's the strain of his pledgehood that's beginning to show. The Student Council has set out in a big way to committee itself to death as last year's one did. These appointive snooping groups have about as much effect as a Hoover Commission and about as long a duration.

ATTENTION!!! women's sororities: Rollo's little pal Betty Noname, wants to make a Greek letter lodge. Please send your invitations to this office care of Rollo. Our little pal is neither a legacy or has she been spiked. She will make her choice via this column so that she can engage in activities and hope for prominence. For those freshmen who are holdouts, Rollo recommends you to go Deke. In preference to Beta because (Hirsute) Sommers belongs to the latter. It has been reported that the Kappas are in a weakened condition from their recent fraternity maneuvers and should be push-overs in the pending sorority rush for Phi Mu. Rollo can't help but shed a tear at the announcement that heralds the passing of the famed historic dollar dances, rendezvous for campus lovers, favorite scrimmaging ground at rush seasons, laboratory for the school of aspiring one-eyed Connollys, and the fertile field of your columnist's prying eyes. Have you been tossed on your face yet by these croquet wickets that the grounds committee have so thoughtfully surrounded our isolated bits of campus? Well, we will see you after we take the Alabama Beef Trust into camp next Saturday. A little cheer and pleasant dreams. Au Revoir!

LETTERS to the Editor

Graduate Believes In Placement Bureau

To the Editor:

One of the greatest needs of the modern university, if it is to prepare for a career rather than a life of cultural leisure, as delightful as that may be, is the need of a Guidance and Placement Bureau. Its aims should be:

1. To inform the entering student what opportunities and demands there are in the various occupations of life.

2. To place the graduate in his chosen field after an adequate course, pursued in the university, has been satisfactorily and meritoriously completed.

Until such a program is adopted by the leading universities of the country, we shall have a constantly increasing, hopelessly lost mob of college graduates who can not find their niche in life, either because they have not been prepared for one, or the demand for the life-work that was chosen is greatly lessened or completely ended.

The scorn with which most business executives regard college graduates because of the latter's lack of knowledge of the practical phase of life will be greatly lessened if there is cooperation between business and college through the Guidance and Placement Bureau. Business in all of its phases, is just as much a life occupation as medicine, law, engineering, agriculture, chemistry, teaching or any of the others traditional to the college and university. Even for these professions a Guidance and Placement Bureau would be tremendously helpful, and would make for a more efficient society with each man in his proper place and the whole meeting on the common basis of humanity.

AN INTERESTED GRADUATE.

The neotrodyne, a device built into radios, was invented by Harold Wheel-er while he was an undergraduate at George Washington University. The invention was brought to the attention of Mr. Hazeltine, prominent engineer in New York, who, appreciating Harold's ability, persuaded him to become connected with the Hazeltine firm, permitting Harold, however, to complete his education. He attended Johns Hopkins University, where he got his Ph.D. before he devoted his full time to his position with the Hazeltine company.

Colonial Gridmen Swamp Westminster, Score 24 - 0

Fiery Warriors Of Buff and Blue Capture Second Straight Victory

McCarver and Carter Impressive in Debut; Night Game Marked by Fumbles

By EVERETT H. WOODWARD.
George Washington University exhibited to the home folks their 1932 edition football team in an easy 24-0 victory over a heavy but slow Westminster team at Griffith Stadium last Friday night.

Using nothing but old-fashioned football with tackle thrusts varied with center rushes and an occasional zone pass, the Colonials accumulated the amount of 24 first downs for the astounding total of 410 yards, while limiting their opponents to a mere three first downs for a total of 63 yards. Spotty handling of the ball held down the size of the score as both eleven fumbled at inopportune moments.

The G. W. aggregation was not long in getting started. After receiving the kickoff, Arrowsmith of Westminster fumbled on the second play, and the ball was recovered by Bill Parrish. Alternating the ball between them, Fenlon, F. Parrish and Kriemelmeyer rushed the ball to the 5-yard line, where Fenlon made the second of his fumbles. Westminster recovered and kicked out of danger. Sandwiched in between penalties for offense, G. W. took the ball to the 3-yard line, from where Fenlon scored the touchdown. Kriemelmeyer missed the kick.

The second touchdown was scored midway of the second period. Parrish began the march with a 35-yard run back of a punt to the Westminster 25-yard line, Fenlon gained 22 yards off-tackle, and Kriemelmeyer plunged through center for the goal. Kriemelmeyer again missed the kick.

The second quarter witnessed the debut of Joe Carter, who proved that he is able as ever by cavorting through and around the entire Westminster team. On successive tries, Carter made 6, 2 and 12 yards, then fumbling on the 6-yard line, nullified his efforts. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3.)

Gridiron Clippings

It looks as though the Colonials are in for a tough schedule, and a season that is going to wind up with a bang. Next week the varsity gridmen meet one of the best teams in the South.

In order that the readers of The Hatchet and George Washington fans may get a fair picture of the games to be played this season, the following excerpts from leading newspapers are reprinted:

The Tulsa Daily World:
Bill Volok and Homer Reynolds will take their regular positions at guard. These athletes, because of their consistent brilliance in the line, have become feared on practically all Oklahoma gridirons.

Reynolds, co-captain of the 1932 Hurricane, is playing his fourth year at guard. He won all state honors his first season at T. U., and ever since has become better and better.

Volok was a unanimous all Oklahoma selection last year. He also won honorable mention on all-American eleven because of his spectacular playing. He is the biggest man on the squad, weighing 210 pounds and towering 6 feet 2 inches.

The Birmingham Age-Herald:

With Moseley at quarterback, Halley at right half, Chappell at left half, and Cain at fullback, the Tide has functioned well in practice this week. This backfield is composed of four hard-running backs, three of whom punt, and four of whom pass. It is one of the most versatile quartets Alabama has had in a long time.

Telegraph Herald and Times Journal, Dubuque, Iowa:

Confronted with a lack of suitable material, Solem has worked diligently

SPORT AXE

If I may juggle astronomy a bit . . . the football moon is rising as the days flit by, and the Tide which is of crimson hue is rolling in.

This 1932 Alabama outfit is the kind sports writers love to write about. With superiority in every field of the game, backed by weight and speed, the southern eleven bids fair to be one of the nation's outstanding gridiron aggregations this season.

George Washington's chances for winning this game . . . that's the question . . . we've a few. Culling over the information at hand concerning our doughty warriors and being honest I should say that the Colonials do have a fair chance to emerge victorious. The boys played smart, fast football in the W. & L. game, but they will have to play a little smarter and a little faster brand to beat Alabama. It's in them, and possible that just such a crisis as this contest represents will be sufficient to bring it out.

Whatever the result, I think that the whole student body may be assured that the George Washington University football team will do their very best and they will probably add a bit more glory to the name of our University.

That fray with Westminster was no criterion by which to judge the ability of the Colonials. It is admitted by nearly everyone that during the last half the boys of Buff and Blue played pretty sluggish football. It was quite a reversal of form from that magnificent game staged against Washington and Lee.

Blackhaired rangy Bob Galloway played as nice a defensive football as any coach would desire. On the punts he with "Zuzu" Stewart were down the field on the safety man before he could get away. Plays around him and were smeared consistently. If only Bob would not freeze when a pass was heaved in his direction he would have no peers as an all-around end if he could learn not to tense up when the ball came spinning towards him.

Timely tips anent the Tide: John Cain is the heaviest man in the backfield tipping the scales at 183. Frank Mosley, brilliant signal caller and ball totter browses amongst Keats, Shelley, and Wordsworth, in his spare moments. Newt Godfree, 198 pound guard who was injured last season is back punishing opponents. Incidentally he's the best one they have. All ends of the Alabama squad are 6-footers or more. There are 13 seniors on the team and a dozen letter men returned. Just linesmen, not counting the backfield. Lastly there was another six-footer scouting the Westminster fray for information for the Red Elephants. Ha! Ha! He didn't get much.

A big show is to be staged at the Fox Motion Picture Theater this Friday night. The two teams participating in Saturday's game have been invited as guests of the theater. Jerry Sickler and his cheering cohorts will be there, the Crimson Tide's orchestra in conjunction with Jack Denney and his famous band and also the Fox Orchestra will provide music aplenty. A tumbler from our University will roll about, the students will cheer, and everyone will proceed to get enthused about a game which one should be enthused about.

Come one, come all, let us show this city that George Washington University has faith in its team, and that finally after years of dormancy the old school is waking up!

Victories Scored By Sigma Nu And Delta Tau Delta

Remaining Games in Golf and Tennis Are Postponed or Defaulted

The interfraternity sport season opened Sunday, but with a smaller bang than expected. Due to fraternity activities, only five fraternities saw action in golf and tennis.

Taking all three singles matches, Sigma Nu defeated Kappa Sigma 3-0. In the only overtime match, Mitchell was extended to win from McGregor, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. Clyde Smith defeated Charles Capley 6-2, 6-2, and Granny Allen continued his streak of wins by vanquishing Vernie Jones 6-3, 6-2.

In the other tennis match taking place, Delta Tau Delta won from Sigma Phi Epsilon, 3-1, taking two singles matches and one doubles.

Banes, Sig Ep. No. 1 man, equipped with a cannonball service, won a hard-fought match from Woodward, 6-4, 6-1. In the first set, Woodward assumed the lead 2-1 only to have Bane literally blow his service across the court and deuce the set. The games then alternated with service until games were 4-all. Then Banes broke through Woodward's serve after being behind 40-5 and continuing his own to win 6-4.

The strain of the first set told on Woodward and Banes with his cannonball serve and speedy strokes overcame the resistance that was offered, and got a lead of 4-0. Woodward then stiffened and finally broke through Banes' service, making the count 4-1. Bane recovered, however, and took the next two games to win, 6-1.

Lincoln had an easy time with DeMend, winning 6-1, 6-1.

In a hard-fought match Beryl Hix conquered Killarney 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Hix Won on Comeback.

Coming from behind after losing the first set, and two down in the second, Hix, showing great stamina, made a brilliant comeback to win the second and deuce the match.

The doubles team of Woodward-Lincoln, Banes-DeMund then took the courts and the Delt team combined to quickly take the first set, 6-3. The second set was quite different. Banes had his service working to perfection and during the set, chalked up five aces. Deucing the set several times, the Delt Duo came from behind to finally win out, 7-5, thus taking the match, 3-1.

Fox Performance To Honor Football Team Friday Night

Jerry Sickler and Fox Band to Lead Audience in Cheers and Songs

An unusual opportunity to pay public tribute to George Washington University's football huskies will be presented Friday night, October 7, in the Fox Theater, at the 9 o'clock performance.

On this occasion, to be known as "College Night," the management of the Fox, through the courtesy of Mr. Carter Barron, will assign six minutes of the stage presentation for the purpose of allowing George Washington students to whom it up for alma mater and the football squad.

The management has invited as its guests the entire squads of George Washington University and the University of Alabama, which, on the following day in Griffith Stadium, will meet in the classic of the 1932 Capital gridiron season.

Messrs. Jerry Sickler and his corps of hand-springing cheer leaders, with the aid of Mr. Phil Lampkin, Fox master of ceremonies, and the Fox stage band, will lead the audience through a program of cheers and songs a la George Washington and Alabama. In the meantime the opposing football squads will be introduced from their respective boxes, bathed in spotlights, near the stage, and while the whoopla is in progress the athletes will remain standing.

In announcing his plans, Mr. Barron stated that the idea had been successfully executed in his home town, Atlanta, Ga., and that thousands of Georgia Tech students, alumni and friends, joined the demonstration at the local theater sponsoring the program.

Freshman Eleven Displays Strength In Early Practice

Weight, Speed, Power Shown Against Varsity; Navy "B" Team Scheduled

Freshman football prospects look brighter as the season progresses. With much speed and power in evidence they are believed even better than the great team of 1929.

The team which has been most used against the varsity averages 188 lbs., and from end to end they average 198 lbs. With Harry Demming and Volkman, 215 and 240 lbs., respectively, the tackle positions are being well taken care of. At the fullback position is the 198-lb. Texan, Don Bomba, who represents the thunder element, while Don Zuber is the lightning.

According to the new policy with reference to games for the Yearlings, one of the four encounters has been scheduled with the Navy "B" team. Efforts to engage stronger teams are being made and the other three games will be scheduled in the near future.

As it now stands the men that are probably considered on the first line-up are: Ends, Bennefield and Sawyer; tackles, Demming and Volkman; guards, Smith and Kolker; center, Kenneth "Red" Rathjen; halfbacks, Plotnicki, Morrison; quarterback, Don Zuber; fullback, Don Bomba.

All in all this squad has weight, power, speed and reserve strength with which the George Washington Colonials expected successes will be upheld in the future.

After College WHAT?

Architecture?

Kenneth Reid, managing editor of the architectural publication, "Pencil Points," writes: "The successful architect needs not only an instinctive feeling for design and a technical skill in construction, but also a complete cultural background. Architecture requires long training, intensive concentration, a keen mind."

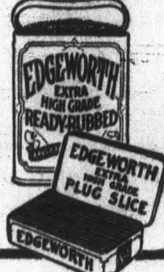

IN ARCHITECTURE, certainly, brains rate 100 per cent. . . . intensive concentration, a keen mind. That's why in this business, as in college, a pipe is the favorite smoke. Get out your pipe now, light up, and through the curling blue puffs of Edgeworth, let your mind drift down the road to those years after graduation.

If you're not already an Edgeworth smoker, there's new smoking satisfaction waiting for you. Edgeworth's blend of fine old burleys is distinctive, different. You'll know—after the first puff. SOCIETY

Men's Rushing Ends as Women Open Season; Students Attend Football Game At Annapolis; Mrs. Barrows Entertains

Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Zeta, Phi Beta Phi, Phi Mu Conduct Initiations.

Men's rushing draws to a satisfactory close, or so we should judge from the rush functions, but the sororities just started their round and the weary freshmen are still on the go. The All-University Ball after the game Friday night furnished entertainment for those students not attending fraternity parties. We are given to understand that even sorority rushing will stop for the Alabama game next Saturday, with Wardmen opening to celebrate the victory—or the defeat—we wonder!

Students Attend Football Game in Annapolis

Among those seen at the Navy-William and Mary game on Saturday, October 1, were Rosalie Brown, Martha Sutton, Alice Ruth Weatherford, Alice Buell, Betty Crane, Eleanor Chambers, Dallas Barr, Virginia Sheffield, and Margaret Claxton.

Elizabeth Morrow returned recently from a two months' trip in the Middle West.

Mrs. Barrows entertained a number of girls interested in music, at a luncheon at the Lambie House on Thursday. The guests were invited to meet Miss Roberts, of the Washington College of Music, and Miss Schelling, lecturer on Wagner.

Phi Alpha chapter of Chi Omega announces the formal pledging of Dorothy Algire.

Billie Solomon entertained a group of her friends at her home on September 28.

Kitty Phelps entertained at a bridge luncheon Saturday in honor of Elizabeth Orth.

Sororities Announce Formal Initiations

Phi Beta Phi announces the formal initiation of Molly Pagan, Betty Shipp, and Jane Edwards on Thursday, September 29.

Phi Mu announces the formal initiation of Amanda Tucker on Sunday morning, October 2.

Alpha Delta Pi announces the initiation of Elizabeth Coon Saturday afternoon, October 1.

Delta Zeta announces the initiation of Elizabeth Martin and Dorothy Smith.

Mary Lee Watkins and Kitty Phelps drove over to Baltimore Friday to visit Olivia Watkins, who is attending Johns Hopkins.

Rambo-Sutton Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Sutton announces the marriage of their daughter Claudia, to Tremaine Rambo, on Wednesday, September 28. The ceremony took place at noon at the home of the bride's parents in Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Rambo are both graduates of George Washington, the former being a member of S. A. E.

Phi Delta announces the engagement of Beryl Laughlin to Wilbur Burbank and of Estelle Henderson to Leon H. Kelso.

Delta Zeta announces the engagement of Bessie McIntire to Robert Whitney.

The actives of Phi Delta held their first party of the season at the home of Margaret Wheeler, in honor of the June graduates.

Columbian Women Will Meet Tonight

Literature Section to Visit Folger Library Afternoon of October 11

Columbian Women of The George Washington University will hold their first meeting of the year on Tuesday afternoon, October 4, in Fellowship Hall of the Western Presbyterian Church.

Miss Elizabeth Peet, president, assisted by the officers, will receive the members from 4 until 4:30 p. m. The officers who will be present are: Miss Harriet Garrels, first vice president; Mrs. Willard Hayes Yeager, recording secretary; Miss Margaret Maize, corresponding secretary; Miss Mildred Getty, treasurer; Mrs. Russel McNitt, assistant treasurer, and Miss Margaret Pepper, historian.

At the business meeting, convening at 4:30 p. m., Miss Peet, who was last year's historian, will read the report of the progress made by the Columbian Women during the year 1931-32.

Miss Peet, who is dean of women and professor of languages at Gallaudet College, is a member of a family which has been noted in the field of education for more than a century. She has received her degree of Bachelor of Arts from The George Washington University, and the honorary degree of Master of Arts from Gallaudet College.

For a long time she has been active in the affairs of the University and in activities of Columbian Women. She holds the position as head of this organization for the second time, having served as president from 1920 to 1922.

Miss Grace Viola Wright, chairman of the literature section, announces that her group will spend the afternoon of October 11 at the Folger Memorial Library.

WHO'S WHO ON THE CAMPUS

RUTH WARREN

Presiding over the Pan-Hellenic Council for this year is Ruth Warren. She is well qualified to fill this position of leadership due to the experience she gained as delegate to the past two Pan-Hellenic National Conventions; furthermore, she served as secretary, last year, of the local Pan-Hellenic Council.

Ruth came to George Washington from Western High School in 1929, and since then she has displayed her versatile capabilities in many directions, journalistically, athletically and otherwise.

She served as a Hatchet reporter during her freshman year, and was promoted to the position of assistant society editor on the staff last year. She has also served as a member of the board of directors of the French Club.

Her ability in athletics was recognized when she was awarded a letter as track manager, after being on the team for two years; as a result of her popularity and interest in athletics, she was elected to the W. A. A. Board.

Artistic ability, too, has its place among Ruth's talents, for this year she was elected as the director of the costume department of the Troubadours. This election was the climax of a three year membership in that department of the club.

Yet in spite of her extensive activities, Ruth has not let down in scholarship, for she has made the Honor Roll three times.

Her social sorority is Chi Omega.

Baptist Student Union Invite Freshmen to Entertainment

A "University of Fun," the Baptist Student Union's first social event of the year, will be staged on Friday night, October 7, according to an announcement made by Dick Rollins, president. The party will be held at Waddell Hall, 715 Eighth street, at 8 p. m.

Special invitations are being sent to freshmen and new students. Dick Grizzard is chairman of the committee in charge of the party.

Managerships Open In Women's Sports

Golf, Swimming, Basketball, Baseball Need Heads; Others Appointed

Managerships of golf, swimming, basketball and baseball are now open to all those women interested. It was announced at the meeting of the Women's Athletic Association last Wednesday evening, September 28. Application for these positions should be filed with Miss Ruth Atwell in Building R immediately, as the appointments will be made soon.

The managers of swimming, basketball and baseball will assume their duties as members of the executive board of the W. A. A. immediately upon appointment, although their duties as sports managers will not begin until the opening of the season in which their particular sport figures. The manager of golf will commence both her executive and managerial duties at once as the fall golf tournament is to be run off this season.

Class managers of hockey and soccer were also announced at this meeting. Florence Hedges, manager of hockey, listed the following as her assistants: Margaret Leibler, senior manager; Catherine Crane, junior; and Jane Hughes, sophomore. Gretchen Feiker, manager of soccer, announced Margaret Blackstone as senior manager, Edith Grosvenor as junior, and Catherine Cummings as sophomore. The freshman managers in both sports will be chosen as soon as the classes in hockey and soccer get under way.

Chemists Prepare For Rush Smoker

Alpha Chi Sigma Fraternity to Meet Rushee in Near Future

Preparation for a rush smoker was made at the Hay-Adams House last Saturday night by the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity. This organization, a national chemical fraternity, will select pledges from George Washington University men having satisfactorily completed a year of chemistry.

The Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity promotes scholarship and fellowship among students studying chemistry. A "Handbook on Chemistry and Physics" is awarded annually to each of the three male students who carry at least eighteen semester hours during the freshman year and attain the highest averages in freshman chemistry.

The fraternity also engraves on a bronze plaque in the chemical laboratory the name and year of graduation of the male student attaining the highest quality point index in chemistry subjects, exclusive of the work of the final semester. He must have completed the requirements for a major in chemistry, with three-fourths of this work done in the George Washington University.

Julia Schelling Talks To Freshmen Women

Well-known Authority on Wagner Accepts Symphony Club Invitation

Julia E. Schelling, internationally known authority on Wagner, has accepted the invitation of the Symphony Club to speak at the freshmen women's assembly Wednesday, October 5, at 12 noon.

Miss Schelling was the first person to lecture in English on Wagnerian opera at Bayreuth, Germany, when she was invited by Siegfried Wagner, son of Richard Wagner, to take part in the 1930 Wagner festival. She has lectured at Bayreuth for three years and is now giving lectures on music appreciation at the Washington College of Music.

Those members of the Symphony Club who met Miss Schelling at the luncheon given for her by Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, Thursday, September 29, know her to be a charming woman and entertaining speaker.

Miss Schelling is to lecture in London and again at Bayreuth, in 1933.

Roofs Bow to Night Clubs As Autumn Changes Dress

Members of George Washington's "400" are laying away their organdies and white flannels, and are beginning to appear at the gathering places of night-life devotees in full splendor of Paris fall fashions and tuxedos.

One event that will interest George Washington's student "society" is the formal and grand re-opening of the Wardman Park Hotel, Friday evening, October 7. Jack Denny and his famous orchestra, the very same one that has been dazzling the New Yorkers at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel will be the feature of the evening. This band will be capably assisted by the Alabama State University Band.

Friday evening supper dancing will be from 7:30 to 9, and dinner dancing from 10 to 1. Breakfast will be served at 1 o'clock, and the cover charge will be only $1.50 per person.

Female Racketeers Begin Work Soon

"Girls, all of you who have ever held a tennis racket in your hand, come out for the doubles tournament this fall," urges Mary Louise Braselton, manager of girls' tennis. Now is the time to sign up, on the bulletin board in Building R. If you haven't a partner, leave your name with Miss Braselton, who will find one for you.

Practice for class tennis begins this week, at 2 o'clock, on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. The class teams will be chosen from those girls who have had two hours of practice each week.

Excellent Glee Club Material Discovered

Tentative Members Chosen After Successful Auditions by Applicants

Dr. Robert Howe Harmon, director of the glee clubs of the University, announces that tryouts held last week have produced an abundance of material from which to develop excellent groups for the current year.

The following applicants who have not previously sung in the George Washington University Men's Club were accepted for tentative membership after successful auditions held on Thursday, September 29: Joseph F. Allen, Homer J. Barlow, Andrew F. Freeman, Kinzie E. Gibbs, Adams S. Lafay, Carlton F. Smith, Edward Stevington, Charles F. Steier, John E. Street, and John H. Thaxter.

Because the bass sections were already well filled, only a very few of the best voices were selected out of the large number of candidates. The provisional members selected will be given further training and some changes may possibly be made at a later date.

Further tests will be made of the voices of men continuing their work of last year in the club, to determine which will be again members in the organization.

Women's Tryouts End Soon

All voice trials for the Women's Glee Club must be completed by Saturday, October 8. After that date no more membership applications will be accepted.

The following new women whose voices were tried out on October 1 have been tentatively accepted for membership in the Women's Glee Club: Robin Boyle, Elizabeth Crane, Amelia Buryl Gulantz, Elizabeth Head, Genevieve Milburn, Marjorie Nelson, Mary Spelman, Mary Katherine Spinks, and Eleanor Yocum.

New Cheering Staff Offers Novel Stunts

Friday night saw George Washington's new cheer-leading staff in action for the first time. The renovated group will be composed of approximately 20 men. It will be divided into two sections, one of which will handle the University pep rallies and the other will lead the organized cheering at the games.

Jerry Sickler, generalissimo of the staff, has prepared several acrobatic and novelty stunts for the Alabama game.

The portion of the staff that is to prepare the pep meetings promises one with the band prior to the Alabama game. The Student Council is cooperating with this branch of the staff in planning these rallies, at which the University yells and songs will be rehearsed with the band. Printed sheets of the University cheers and songs will be distributed for the benefit of those who do not know them or who have not already procured them.

Freshman Engineers' Smoker Will Plan Program for Year

Dean Lapham, and several professors of the School of Engineering, will greet all freshmen, civil and general engineers, at a smoker to be held in Building K-12 at 8:15 next Tuesday evening, October 11. As this is the first meeting of the year, it is expected that plans will be laid for the coming season. Thus it is important that every freshman engineer make an effort to be present during the evening.

Two Thousand George Washington Students Eligible to Vote In Elections This November According to Registrar's Office

Majority Allowed National Suffrage Under Absentee Voting Laws

Two thousand George Washington students are eligible to vote for President of the United States this November, according to figures furnished by the registrar's office.

These 2,000 must vote according to the absentee voting laws of the State in which they claim legal residence, unless of course they are residents of nearby Virginia and Maryland. The remainder of the student body are not 21 years old, are not citizens of the United States, or are deprived of suffrage rights because they are residents of the District of Columbia.

In a number of states personal registration is required and in other states absentee voting is permitted. Both of the major political parties are prepared to explain the procedure in detail for each state and will, at their headquarters here in the District of Columbia, aid voters of their party in the legal arrangements.

Personal registration of voters is required of all voters in these states: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and Wyoming. In Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and North Dakota, registration applications may be filed by mail. Idaho, Nevada, and Oregon require personal registration of all eligible except Federal employees, who may file their applications by mail. Pennsylvania requires personal registration in all places except Pittsburgh and Scranton, where Federal employees may register by mail.

Absentee voting is permitted in the following states: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michi-

New Mathematics Course Planned for Next Term

Dean Henry Grattan Doyle has recently announced that the Department of Mathematics has under consideration a plan to offer during the second semester a course in plane geometry, to be known as Mathematics A.

This course, if given, will not count towards a degree, but will be accepted as satisfying the entrance requirement in plane geometry for students who, while graduates of accredited high schools with the necessary total number of units, do not satisfy the requirements of one unit in plane geometry.

Students who are interested in such a course should notify Dean Doyle in writing as soon as possible.

Borden Edits Article In Biological Journal

Alumni President Writes on "Cinematography, Its Use in Surgery."

Dr. Daniel L. Borden, president of the University Alumni Association and associate professor of Surgery in the School of Medicine, is the author of an article entitled "Cinematography, Its Use in Surgery," appearing recently in The Journal of the Biological Photographic Association.

The author discusses the utility of moving picture presentations of surgical operations and describes the methods employed in successfully photographing them.

Dr. Borden concludes that cinematography is a highly important development in surgical education since it makes possible the reproduction of an operation before the classroom. Photographs of operations filmed at the University Hospital for the purposes of instruction have already proved their value.

Maryland Pastor Discusses "Motives of Christian Life"

"It is more important to know why we are traveling than where," was the theory expressed by the Reverend Amos Traver, D. D., of Frederick, Maryland, in a speech on "The Motives of Christian Life," delivered before the Luther Club on Wednesday, September 27. This was the first of a series of interesting lectures planned by the Luther Club for the year.

The Reverend Henry Snyder, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will be the guest speaker at the next lecture which is to be held immediately following the annual election of officers of the club at the meeting on October 25.

Dr. Raymond Seeger, professor of physics at the George Washington University, will lead the series of discussion groups on "Stewardship," meeting on October 4, 11, and 18, at 8 p. m., in the Lambie House.

Women Entertained At Welcoming Party

Women's Athletic Association Party Program Planned by Mary Haley.

Games and stunts of all kinds were features of the Women's Athletic Association party for freshman women last Wednesday evening. The party, which is an annual affair, was given in Corcoran Hall 10 following the regular meeting of the Association at 7 o'clock.

A large group of freshman and upperclass women gathered to enjoy the varied entertainment arranged by Mary Haley for the occasion. In addition to the group stunts, Virginia Gummel gave several amusing readings and Margaret Gilligan sang a number of popular songs, playing her own accompaniment.

Grace Haley, president of the W. A. A., was introduced to the new women, after which she told them the purpose of the Association and explained to them the system of awards in the various sports. The numerous opportunities for athletic participation while in the University were outlined, and a cordial welcome to the freshmen was extended by Miss Haley.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE FALL OF CONSTANTINOPLE
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Thomas Webb... inspired by the savage slaughter of 5000 Christian defenders—at the hands of the vengeful, barbaric horde of 250,000 men under the ruthless Mohammed II—1453!

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

him equally proficient. If this man has any weakness, his opponents have yet to find it.

And this is not a one-man squad by any means. Although Cain gained 109 yards in 17 attempts and carried the brunt of the attack until the second half, Chappell, Holley and Moseley shaped up as real running mates for this national star. On one trek, Holley, a two letter man, made 47 yards with Cain clearing the path. And Chappell, the real speedster of this crew, steps plenty fast behind the "hurricane's" neat blocking.

Plenty of Line Material.

An even dozen letter men answer Coach Frank Thomas' prayer for experience in the line. Dotherow, Swain, and Leach are the veterans at the wing posts where Thomas is fortunate in having plenty of height. Nine of his thirteen wing aspirants range six feet or over.

The center of the line will find Godfrey, Leslie, Barker and Dildy looking after the tackles, and Hufke, Sanford, Sims and Frey alternating at the guard positions. At center Hewes and Houston leave little to worry about.

Of the men mentioned above, eight are playing their third year of varsity football. All are letter men; five, two letter men. It is needless to say that with such a wealth of excellent material, southern scribes and Bama grid fans are expecting the Crimson Tide to make an excellent record.

Despite the fact that speed and diversity are the outstanding factors in the visitors' play, they show plenty of power and weight. In the backfield Cain is the heaviest, weighing 188. His cohorts are considerably lighter, Holley tipping at 157 and making the average 172.

Speech Arts Fraternities Announce Two Fall Oratorical Contests

Sigma Delta Phi Offers Cup for Freshmen Women Contest, November 9

The Sigma Delta Phi freshmen women's speaking contest will be held on Friday, November 9. All women in the University who have not more than 30 hours of credit and are taking at least nine hours are eligible. A silver cup will be awarded the winner; the runner-up will be given honorable mention.

Manuscripts for this contest are due on the Monday following the Thanksgiving holidays. The speeches may be no longer than ten minutes in length and may be on any subject of a persuasive nature. In this contest, also, students are urged to register with the public-speaking department if they intend to enter.

This contest is an annual affair sponsored by Sigma Delta Phi. Last year's winner was Lucy Frank, who spoke on the subject, "Racketeering."

200 and Frey, Godfrey, Sims and Dotherow only a shade behind, Thomas can throw plenty of beef into the forward wall. These linemen will bear the brunt of the attack and attempt to clear the path for the dashes and plunges of Cain, Chappell & Co.

To date the Crimson Tide have kept most of their ace plays under cover. Against Southwestern they were most formidable from punt formation and around the ends. Their passing attack, used only sparingly, has not rounded into its expected effectiveness. But last year Cain tossed the sphere with unerring accuracy to Swain and Dotherow for numerous gains, and should Thomas be pushed, he undoubtedly will call on this threat.

George Washington will go into this game with a clean slate but its approximate strength is doubtful. Opening its campaign with Washington and Lee, the Colonials showed surprising power in an 18-0 victory. Functioning smoothly, they kept the game well in hand throughout and smothered every W & L attack. On the attack Fenlon and F. Parrish hit the line and skirted the ends enough to tally three touchdowns.

But against Westminster it was something of a different story. Although gaining a 24-0 victory, the Colonials looked sloppy and sluggish at times. They marched through the Pennsylvania's line for 24 first downs, proof enough of any team's power, yet they lacked the real punch and class that marked the initial contest.

Colonials Passing Is Threat. Coach Pixlee has developed a first-rate passing attack that will be George Washington's chief offensive threat. With Fenlon on the throwing end, and Mulvey, Chambers and F. Parrish doing the receiving, the Colonials may keep the visitors to their backs to the wall via the aerial route.

Carter and Fenlon will do the brunt of the ball carrying, with Kriemelmeyer and F. Parrish slicing at the line. The first two mentioned are light, fast backs of the end-skirting type, while "Otts" and Parrish supply the weight and power necessary to hit the line. All have shown to good advantage this year, as in the past, and G. W. will offer speed, versatility and power in its ball carriers.

On the line there probably will be no change from the past two games. Captain Wayne Chambers and Fred Mulvey will hold down the ends, with two particularly able subs in Wray and Galloway on hand. At tackle Slaird and B. Parrish will hold forth with Pearce and Steele in reserve, while "Zuzu" Stewart and Hickman take charge of the guard posts with help from Asher and Dike. Dike will start at center, alternating in this position with Conn.

All injuries are expected to be healed by game time except, of course, Carlin's broken collar-bone and Doose's foot injury. Pearce, Baker, McCarver, Wray and Carter have been on the shelf with slight ails but all are now ready for action.

Annual Speaking for Davis Awards Scheduled for Tuesday, November 15

The Davis prize speaking contest sponsored annually by the Department of Public Speaking has been set for Tuesday, November 15.

This contest is open to both men and women of senior standing in the University. Manuscripts of the speeches must be turned into the public speaking office in Building Q not later than November 1. The speeches are not to exceed ten minutes in length. They may be upon any subject of a persuasive nature.

The Davis prizes were founded in 1847 by the Honorable Isaac Davis of Massachusetts and consists of three prizes amounting to $15, $10, and $5, respectively.

The Davis contest has had a remarkable history. Many people prominent in the District today have competed for the prizes during the last 80-odd years. When the contest was first organized it was divided into two parts, one for men and one for women, because it was not thought fitting for women to appear on the platform in a speaking capacity. Their contest was limited to essay writing and the prizes were awarded for the best written essay without regard for speaking ability.

Francis Kirkham of the Law school won last year's contest, speaking on "A World Court."

Students who intend to enter this contest are urged to register in the public speaking office immediately where the professors will be glad to confer with them and assist in any way possible.

FIERY WARRIORS OF BUFF AND BLUE CAPTURE 2D STRAIGHT VICTORY

Westminster then kicked and the march was again resumed, this time culminating successfully with Carter reversing his field and scoring the third touchdown. Chambers failed to convert the point.

The interest of the third quarter was the first appearance of Nig McCarver, Pixlee's new speedster, who gained 16 yards on his first try. After several exchanges of kicks, featured by Steele's boot measuring 57 yards, McCarver ran to the 25-yard line, then threw a direct pass to Galloway, who was on the 5-yard line and with a clear field ahead, dropped the ball. There was no more scoring until the fourth period, when Carter and McKinnis carried the ball on a 50-yard march to the goal, Carter taking it over. Fenlon showed that he is no different by missing the kick, making seven successive kicks that have been lost.

The game ended with G. W. hammering away at the Westminster goal. A pass, Fenlon to Parrish, similar to the one with which he made his 55-yard run in the W. & L. game, gained 17 yards. Fenlon assumed his duties and carried the ball to the 3-yard line, where it remained, as on his next try, Johnny was thrown for a loss by Siljander, Titan end.

G. W. Line Shows Up Well.

A summary of the game in search of honors shows that the G. W. line gave a superb demonstration with Stewart continuing his efforts for all-star honors. Carter established himself as a back to alternate with Fenlon on their roving journeys. Fenlon again demonstrated his ability at leader, mixing with skill the few plays that he was allowed to use. For the Pennsylvanians, the ends Leyschock and Siljander bore the brunt of the work. The former received a great hand from the crowd when he left the field exhausted in the last quarter.

The game, while pleasing because of the victory to G. W., showed the team performing with less co-ordination than in the W. & L. game. Perhaps it is a question of too much football during the week, a hazard liable to befuddle the players as with a punch-drunk boxer.

The summary and score:

G. W.	Pos.	Westminster

of the Detroit Symphony; Stokowski, in Philadelphia; Koussevitzky, in Boston; and Toscanini, in New York. Never before, however, has the performance of a symphony formed the program for a university assembly in the United States, and for a like occasion one must turn to the foreign institutions of learning. When Haydn received the degree at Oxford, three grand concerts were an important feature of the entertainments, at the second of which the "Oxford" symphony was performed under his baton. It was in acknowledgment of the degree from Breslau that Brahms wrote the famous "Academic Overture."

Kindler Has International Reputation. Recognition of Hans Kindler and of the National Symphony Orchestra by the George Washington University sounds a welcome note to the people of Washington. As teacher, conductor, and concert artist, Kindler has attained international reputation. The achievement of the orchestra during the past two years under its accomplished and popular conductor has placed it among the outstanding musical organizations of the country.

The manner of the University's observance of the Haydn bicentennial, apart from its civic interest, has national significance in focusing attention upon the role of music in cultural education.

Falling in the same year as the George Washington Bicentennial, the Haydn celebration is particularly appropriate to the spirit of the times, for his compositions, familiar to the men and women of colonial America, recreate the atmosphere of eighteenth century life and manners. The formation in Boston, in 1815, of a "Haydn Society" attests the veneration in which the composer was held in the United States of Washington's day.

With the exception of the conferring of the honorary degree and degrees in course, the musical rendition will occupy the entire program of the convocation.

RIEFFENBACH PRESIDES OVER YEARLINGS IN NEW ORGANIZATION

Jones, vice president; Ethel McKeon, secretary, and Marjorie Nelson, treasurer.

The policy of the freshman class for the coming year, as announced to The Hatchet by the president, is to be one of active participation and co-operation with the other classes in the University. Class and school spirit are to be the chief aims of the group. With a normal amount of support within the class, it is hoped that there will be instituted in the University an organization and school spirit that will set a worth-while precedent. The class favors support of all University activities and the adoption by the freshman class of the freshman rules with enforcement by the sophomore class.

At a meeting of the class held on Saturday, definite plans were completed for a sophomore-freshman tug-of-war to take place during the half at the Alabama game next Friday. The second event on the calendar is a football game between the sophs and the frosh. The date of this will be announced as soon as arrangements can be made between the two classes. Plans are also under way for an all-freshman dance. Other activities will be added to the program as the organization of the class progresses.

since the opening of practice and has developed a team composed of veterans and sophomores that appears a decided improvement over recent Hawkeye teams.

The Fargo Forum:

Casey Finnegan's rest Wednesday night must have been much easier. The gray-thatched Bison football mentor shooed his charges from Decatur field after their regular drill Wednesday confident that they had started on the way to improvement.

Especially pleasing was the improved blocking and the better spirit, a factor which Finnegan believes will make his charges far more effective.

The Tulsa Daily World: There's a new football system under way at the University of Oklahoma. It features the aerial attack that made Sooner teams feared when Bernie Owen was head coach years ago.

From Vanderbilt Coach Lewis Hardage has brought an open style of play built on the theory that a good offense is the best defense.

John (Bo) Rowland, line coach, has a forward wall averaging 186 pounds to the man, while the backfield averages 170.

The Washington Post:

Giving a fine exposition of pluck and fight that has characterized its teams in recent years, William and Mary College, of Williamsburg, Va., took the measure of the Annapolis Midshipmen on the gridiron here today. The score was fine, 6 to 0, and it was a well-earned victory, the visitors having an edge in general play throughout the battle.

The request has been made that all students planning to attend the Fox this week await Friday night to do so, in order that a large student representation will be on hand when the cheering begins. Also, it was pointed out, there will be no soft pedal applied to the cheering; the management invites the students to "raise the roof."

The suggestion has been made that those desiring to attend other functions the same night will be able to participate in the cheering and witness the full show by gaining admission at 7:30 o'clock.
